

Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 1600 on Friday 22 Oct 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:

Mostly dry Saturday central, eastern Scotland. Rain edging into west.

This Evening and Tonight:

Many places dry, any showers largely dying out this evening. Becoming cold with some patchy frost although temperatures recovering later tonight. Strengthening southerly winds will bring rain to the Western Isles later.

Saturday:

Much of Scotland will have dry day with some sunshine. Rain on west coast, extending to other western areas during afternoon. Mild with fresh southerly winds, strong along west coast.

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:

Overnight rain soon clearing on Sunday, then bright and mild with scattered showers, these mainly in the west. Showers in the west on Monday. Patchy rain spreading east on Tuesday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.